

You've found the Solar Powered Talking Microwave Mailbox!

You're at 442 Tom's Gully Road – that means 4420 metres from Black Mountain! (That's how the numbers work in these outback properties.)

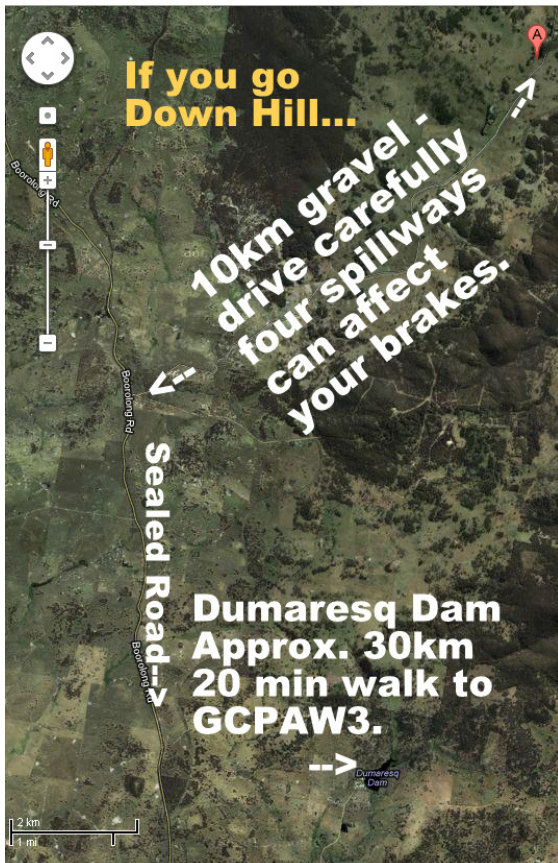

This mailbox runs off 12 Volts. When first featured on Funniest Home Videos, it was driven by a tape recorder; but over the years the high humidity in the mailbox tended to wear out the players.

Now, it uses a Voice Recorder chip from Jaycar Electronics instead.

It broke down recently. Can you spot the problem? All fixed since then.

This mailbox is on YouTube at <http://bit.ly/GC48MM8>

Save Paper – Photograph this with your smartphone instead :)

Or, the PDF of this sheet is at <http://auzzie.net/files/GC48MM8.pdf> - or scan the QR code at the top to save that pesky typing!

